BANKING FOR PRODUCERS.

Ontario, so the eastern papers say, is going to see two million dollars' worth of apples go to waste this fall because there is not the immediate market to absorb them, nor the available financial machinery to carry the crop forward in some form or other until the market presented itself in this country or some other.

At the same time there goes up from eastern Canadian cities the cry of the out-of-works who must be taken care of and who, with their dependents, must be fed.

These two circumstances, seen side by side, illustrate most clearly what it is that the Canadian banking system fails to do for Canada.

The man who, seeking employment, sees through the wayside fence trees loaded with apples which, by the application of his and others' labor, might become canned apples, dried apples, apple butter, apple cider or any one of a dozen characters of products, in a state of hermetically sealed preservation such as would outlast the pyramids, or who realizes that these apples, properly packed and placed in cold storage, would quite probably outlast the war, might be pardoned if he hurls a few anathemas at a system which allows those apples to go to waste at the same time and in the same place as his capacity to labor is going to waste and his kiddies are compelled to rely on charity for enough to eat.

Yet this is exactly what this wonderful banking system which we have built up in Canada does, and while the apples and the jobless men are a particularly spectacular case, the system does the same thing in a greater or less degree in every productive industry in the dominion.

No sooner does the sawmill, for instance, fill its last order than the plant, in the great majority of cases, is compelled to shut down and the men are out of work and unable to buy apples. The fishery works almost absolutely to its demand; when the immediate demand is not presented difficulty in maintaining operations because the silver content of their ore—owing to the war situation—cannot be immediately forwarded to its ultimate market in Asia. All these industries interlock. Where one is affected all are affected. Where one man is out of work the loss radiates until it is shared by thousands.

These halts and jars to the machinery of production occur in peace times as well as during war—although the war accentuates and emphasizes them—and at the same time the banking report from month to month shows enormous sums of the money necessary to maintain a steady production in Canada are being taken out of the country altogether and lent to the stock gamblers in New York, who do not produce and whose operations, on the whole, are a distinct handicap to production. What the war has pointed out in this latter respect is that this mobile reserve, which the banks allege their call loans in New York represent, has as great possibilities for being locked up as apples in the can, lumber in a pile, or silver in a safety-deposit vault.

What is needed in Canada, of course, is a banking system by which it would be possible to finance on any character of produced and transmutable wealth, in any place and at any time, and not necessarily with the consent of a privately-owned bank. Already this has been perfected in the matter of warehouse receipts and bills of lading for wheat, but President Wilson in United States is working out in his federal reserve board a system by which it will be possible to get the same accommodation on almost any staple product that the ordinary demands of commerce make fit security for discount. While the Wilson method is roundabout, it contains the germ of what must be applied to remedy the situation in Canada.

In other words, it must be admitted that the banking system as at present constituted in Canada, fails to suit itself to the requirements of a country which relies not on the thing called "finance," as does New York or London, but upon straight hickory-shirted production for its prosperity. The change that is necessary is to make the actual, tangible products the collateral, instead of stocks and bonds. The thing that is required is banking for producers and not for gamblers.

THE PROFOUND INTELLECT WHICH ERUPTS DIURNALLY IN THE JOURNAL.

Speaking about the immediate effects of the war upon the money situation, The Capital a week or so ago, said in these columns:

In preparation for war Europe has been hoarding gold for years and proceeded to tell something about the extent to which the hoarding of gold had been carried on by European governments, to show probably effects and to explain how, over night, as it were, the credit system upon which the world's business had been carried forward was completely dissolved, and the world suddenly thrust onto a basis where gold is the only international money.

Whereupon the column which the Journal palms off on a defenseless public as mental pabulum emitted something like this:

THE ALLEGED HOARDING OF GOLD.

Strange stories are afloat about enormous stores of gold which the nations of Europe have been hoarding in anticipation of the present war. They should be accepted with the utmost reserve, and quite a lot more hash of that kind.

Now comes Will Payne, in the Saturday Evening Post, who, speaking of financial Europe's preparations for the war, says:

Ever since 1912 there has been a pretty steady selling of foreign-held American securities.

And pointing out the extent to which this process of cashing in on United States securities in order to get gold into the European boards had been accelerated toward the last, he says:

In the seven months (January to July, 1914) we exported eighty-three million dollars of gold—above imports of the metal—in part settlement of the debt.

The object of this he describes thusly:

Her whole object in selling our securities was to get money, not credit; so whatever stocks and bonds we bought now would have to be paid for in gold.

And to make the thing plain in the reader's mind he prefaces his story with this:

At the beginning of the last week in July the civilized world was going about its business as usual. By the end of the week, in Europe, all the vast machinery of credit and exchange by which that business is carried on had gone to smash.

The Journal will now kindly rise up and declare that Will Payne knows nothing whatever about the things he is writing about and that anyway the Saturday Evening Post could not be expected to understand these things so clearly as the profound intellect which erupts diurnally in the Journal.

Children's Shoes Should Be Carefully Chosen

When it is taken into consideration that the adult's grace of carriage and lifelong foot comfort depends largely upon a wise choice of shoes for the child's feet, the shaping of this footwear becomes a matter of supreme importance.

The Children's Shoes which we carry are shaped exactly like the small feet for which they are designed and do not press or exert them.

We carry a very large assortment of Children's Shoes and the prices are right, so come and we will be pleased to show you them.

UNIVERSITY NEWS

The university of Alberta opened classes for the session of 1914-15 Wednesday last. Registration is going steadily. There is every indication that the freshmen class will be large, and that the attendance as a whole will show an increase over last year.

Building operations on the university campus have gone on briskly all summer. The arts building has reached the top story, and the new lecture hall is well on toward completion. The third residence, is roofed in, and workmen are busily engaged in finishing the interior. The north wing is being prepared for the immediate installation of medical laboratories and class rooms.

The staff of instruction of the university of Alberta now numbers 40. Eight new members have been added for the work of this session, and some new appointments are still to be made.

Allan Emerson Cameron, M. Sc., lecturer in mining engineering and demonstrator in geology, is a graduate of McGill university. He received his master's degree for special work in the study of the combustion of coal and holds the Douglas fellowship in mining for the present year. Mr. Cameron has had a large amount of practical experience. He was engaged in a transcontinental survey work during the winters of 1909 and 1910 with the G.T.P. railway, and during the summer of 1911 with the Hudson's Bay railway. For the last three years he has been connected with the geological survey. In 1912 he acted efficiently with Dr. Allan of the university of Alberta, in survey work in the Rocky mountains; the summer of 1913 he spent surveying in southern Saskatchewan, and that of 1914 in the coal and oil fields of southern Alberta.

Hector John McLeod, B. Sc., lecturer in electrical engineering, is a native of Prince Edward Island. He was educated at Prince of Wales college, then came west, took the normal school course in Alberta in 1907, and taught for two years in the southern part of the province. He then took a course in applied science at McGill university, specializing in electrical engineering and graduating in 1914, gold medalist of his year. Mr. McLeod has spent two summers in practical work with the Canadian Westinghouse company, Hamilton, Ont.

John R. Robertson, M.A. B. Sc., lecturer in analytical chemistry, is a graduate of the University of Edinburgh. His thesis on "The Chemical Examination of the Organic Matter in Oil-Shales" written as the result of his research work under the Carnegie scholarship which he won in 1912, has been published in the "Proceedings of the Royal Society of Edinburgh." Mr. Robertson lectured last year in chemistry at McGill university, from which institution he comes to the university of Alberta.

Two members of the teaching staff of the university of Alberta are fighting with the allies, while a third is with the Canadian expeditionary force.

Edward Smet, who has been lecturer in French for four years and who was in France at the outbreak of the war, has joined the colors. He is now with his old regiment, the 160th Chasseurs d'Afrique (Algerian Light Infantry).

John Burdon Bokereth, (Oxon), who was appointed lecturer in French in spring, had, as an undergraduate, three years of military training. He has obeyed Lord Kitchener's call for men and has enlisted as a trooper in the Yorkshire Hussars.

Temporary appointments in French will be made until Mr. Smet and Mr. Bokereth can again take up their duties.

Dr. Allan C. Rankin, M.D., C.M., D.P.H. (McGill), provincial bacteriologist and professor of bacteriology in the university, and served as captain in the army medical corps. When the war broke out he volunteered his services, and is now either at Valenciennes or on the ocean with the first contingent of the Canadian expeditionary force. Dr. Rankin's experience in public health work and with those infectious and other diseases which are the special danger of camp life, makes his services of great value in the sanitation department of army and medical work.

A "FAMILY" WAR

(From the Edinburgh Scotsman)
"Cousin," said King George of England.
"Cousin," responded King Christian of Denmark.
"Cousin," said the Czar of All the Russians.

"Cousin yourself," replied Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany.

If all the heads of the nations involved in the European disturbances were to come together on some one field of battle, there would be a lively interchange of family greetings—unless the Royal relatives were too cross to speak to one another at all.

The following list gives some idea of how the various rulers are related:

1. King George V. of Great Britain and Ireland, everybody's cousin.
2. Tsar Nicholas II. of Russia, first cousin of King George and of Emperor William.
3. Emperor William of Germany, grandson of Queen Victoria.
4. Queen Maud of Norway, sister of King George.
5. Queen Sophia of Greece, sister of Emperor William.
6. Queen Victoria of Spain, first cousin of Emperor William, of King George, and of Tsar Nicholas II.
7. Nicholas II, Czar of Russia, first cousin of King George.

Marriage is apt to prove a failure if the courtship stops as soon as the parson has tied the knot.

been issued by the institute of chartered accountants, giving details of the requirements in accountancy for the coming year. A new feature is the primary examination, which is equivalent to the matriculation examination of the university of Alberta in the subjects of English, history, arithmetic, algebra and geometry.

The lectures will be given each week for 25 weeks, the first on Tuesday evening, October 6, 1914, at 7.30, and the second on the same evening at 8.30. Further information may be obtained from the registrar, university of Alberta, or from the principal of Alberta college, north side.

During the summer S. R. Hooford has been with the department of extension of the university of Alberta. He is in the division of debating and public discussion. Briefs and pocket literature have been prepared on over 25 questions of public importance, for the use of debaters throughout the province. It is hoped that this work will still further increase the service which the department will be able to render to the general public during the coming winter.

The schedule of extension lectures for this winter is being prepared by the department of extension of the university of Alberta. Last year 150 lectures were given at 40 centres, 18 of which had courses of four or more lectures. This year courses may be arranged for to be given at 40 centres, 18 of which had courses of four or more lectures. This year courses may be arranged for to be given at 40 centres, 18 of which had courses of four or more lectures.

Applications for travelling libraries should be sent in to the department of extension as soon as possible. The demand therefor is to be greater than the supply. Even during the busy summer months, the department has been constantly in the field and requests for information about them come from many districts by almost every mail.

Already the Y.M.C.A. of the university of Alberta is busy. Its information bureau is established in the rooms of the student union, and is placing the experience in university and city life, of the senior students, at the disposal of the freshmen as they arrive. The "Y" this year, for the first time, is to have the service of an inter-collegiate secretary, and with M. W. Harlow, B.A., filling the position, it should be a valuable factor in the student life.

Thirteen schools have already entered the High school debating league for this term, and several others have expressed their intention of entering. It is expected that the contest for the Rutherford cup, now held by Canmore, will be a keen one. The subject for the preliminary debates is "The Consolidation of Rural Schools." Material on this subject has been collected by the department of extension, and pocket literature will be sent to the schools taking part.

A bulletin has been issued by the department of extension setting forth the objects of the league and giving an account of the work done last year and the rules under which debates are held.

There Are Things in This Free Atlas Not Contained in Any Other Publication

The European war atlas, just off the press, which readers of the Edmonton Daily Capital may secure free, is filled from cover to cover with latest detailed maps, pictures and general information of Europe and the war that you never saw published before.

It's up-to-date, too, all of it. For example, the correct boundaries of the Balkan states at the time of the beginning of the present war are given, both in the big, colored, double-page map of Europe and in a smaller map of central Europe. Very few atlases or maps give such up-to-date and reliable information.

The Capital carries the best and latest news. Besides war news it will carry full reports of the doings of the Alberta legislature, which meets in a few days; the dominion parliament, which will also meet this fall; the world's championship baseball games, which start October 9; and all the other late sporting and other news, including the famous Mutt and Jeff series of comic cartoons.

There is only a limited number of European war atlases. Make sure of your atlas and your Capital today.

BE PRETTY TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair which is streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wey's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 25 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

The East directly. The hostess poured her own tea.

Mrs. Winifred Walt, 25 Twenty-first street, will be at home Monday, October 5, from four until six. All former students of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, are invited to meet Miss Frank and business in connection with Trafalgar Daughters will be transacted.

On Saturday last Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mathers entertained at their pretty summer home in Hollyburn, W. Vancouver, the members of the Ruskin Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire.

In the living-room, which was most attractively decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, bridge was played in the afternoon and dinner served at 7 o'clock, while in the evening music and games made the time pass pleasantly—Vancouver Province.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathers are former Edmontonians.

Mrs. Sam Field's artistic drawing-room, despite the unpleasant weather, was the center of attraction of many callers when she held her post natal reception. The bride wore her lovely wedding gown of white liberty satin, cut with the long train, and carried a bouquet of white Turkish towel, overlaid with crepe, enhanced with Oriental embroideries in pink and blue ferns. At the tea table, centered with ferns and sweet peas, Mrs. Paragharan, Mrs. W. H. Hutton and Mrs. Lorne Yorkie did the honors. Assisting were Misses Mabel and Marie Finn, Miss Ada Macpherson and Miss Agnes Ingham. Great purple asters graced the pretty room, wherein blazed a cheery fire.

The members of the Women's Canadian club, amidst the rush of many calls, must not forget the patriotic meeting to be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the lecture hall of First Presbyterian church. As this is the only occasion when those who are not members have been invited to attend, the club thinks this city should number 600 members instead of 400, and it is expected that after hearing Dr. Dyde's address, on Canada, all those present who are not members will wish to be. The national anthem of Great Britain, Russia, Belgium and Canada, sung by representatives of those countries, will be a feature of the meeting. The Women's Canadian club of this city has donated $150 to the local patriotic fund.

The ladies Aid of First Baptist church will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of J. D. Roberts, 426 Thirteenth street.

WEDDINGS

Cullis-Robinson.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Robison, Calhoun St., Stettler, Alta., was the scene of a very quiet but pretty wedding, when, at 4:30 a.m. on September 26, Myrtle G., their only daughter, was united in marriage to Harry M. Cullis, of the same place.

Rev. J. F. Woodworth, of Red Deer, performed the ceremony.

The home was prettily decorated with pansies and sweet peas, a beautiful bower in the drawing-room marking the scene of the ceremony.

The bride, who was charmingly attired in ivory duchesse satin and shadow lace, carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies.

Mr. H. J. Unwin played the wedding march and Miss Ollie F. Fyfe, of Custer, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid wearing mauve crepe de chine trimmed with ermine and shadow lace cap, and carried pink and white carnations.

Mr. Ernest B. Brown, of Edmonton, supported the groom.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome set of Persian lamb fur, to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet, and to the best man and organist, pearl stick pins.

The bride's mother wore black silk with embroidered net tulle.

The bride and groom left on the early morning train for Calgary about 10 o'clock, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride travelling in navy blue serge suit with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullis will be at their home on Jamieson street to their many friends after November.

EXPECT FUND TO REACH $100,000

Canadian Patriotic and Relief Campaign is Still on in Edmonton.

$55,000 COLLECTED SO FAR

Other Large Concerns Arranging to Give Portion of Monthly Salaries.

In two weeks, about $150,000 has been realized in the course of the financial campaign of the Canadian patriotic and relief fund. The fund is now being collected by the joint committee and collecting staff for that total to be raised to $100,000 by the people of Edmonton.

It is felt that this will not be difficult of accomplishment, or not too much to ask for, inasmuch as the large number of donations are known to be still under contemplation, and likewise for varying reasons there are still many to reach the offices from collectors.

A very considerable proportion of citizens and large firms are expected to promptly and generously and the committee now ask for a similar measure of support from those who are able to help but have not yet made known their proposed contributions.

A number of people may have been away, others perhaps ill, while many may have been awaiting a more practical date for drawing the check. Some employers have not yet arrived at a mutual agreement with their men for proportion of wages to be deducted or for the men to contribute.

The inclement weather has been adverse to the collectors' operations and the cheerfulness of the giver.

All are reminded, however, that the camp headquarters at 44 Jasper west (phone 2215) are not yet closed, and that the general office, 515 and 516 Civic building (phone 2146) will continue to remain open for business.

Other large concerns are being organized, together with the campaign manager and his staff, to get the campaign on as hard as ever, organizing and giving relief, or getting in more funds; and it is sincerely trusted that the urgency of this appeal will be realized by all those who have not yet been able to respond.

GERMANS CIRCULATE BREEZY REPORTS OF COLOSSAL VICTORIES

London, Oct. 5.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Standard recounts some of the fanciful stories which are being circulated in Germany, and in Russia, in connection with the Russian campaign. The reports are of a nature to excite the imagination of the German people, and are being widely circulated in the German press.

FIRST BILLIARD MATCH TAKEN BY AMERICAN CHAMP

Willie Hoppe Wins Over Melbourne Inman by Score of 4,285 to 3,703.

New York, Oct. 2.—Willie Hoppe of this city, champion billiard player of the world, won the international combination of English and billiard match Saturday night, beating the world's champion at English billiards, Melbourne Inman, of Twickenham, England, by a total score of 4,285 points to 3,703. The match consisted of five 600 yard games at the rate of 152 ball line. Each man scored 2,000 at his own style of play, but Hoppe proved more expert in playing the game that was foreign to him than Inman was at billiard line. Hoppe, the five English games, scored 1,285 points, while Inman made only 703 points in six ball line contests.

Each showed during the week here that he was worthy of the world's title at his own game. Hoppe, on three occasions gave brilliant exhibitions of the best of them being a run of 195 in Saturday night's game. He nursed the ivory at the top of the table for this run, during which he resorted only three times to a drive of either object ball the length of the table, but slipped up when he made a count which failed to get either ball out of ball. The high run of the match—221—was made by Inman on the English table last night.

The match just ended is the first of a series of five which will be concluded at Chicago and three Canadian cities within the next five weeks.

Most splits in three games, box chocolates presented by Chas. Hepp, won by Godson with 1,135. Most splits in six games, neckties presented by Stanley and Jackson, won by Professor Jarvis with 14.

German Army Becomes Demoralized, Opinion of Many at the Front

London, Oct. 5.—The Daily Mail's correspondent in France reports fighting in and around Douai, in the department of Nord, 18 miles south of Lille, and considers that if the French have reached Douai in force the situation of the German, General Von Kluck, must be desperate.

"General Von Kluck" the correspondent says, "has had all the reinforcements which can be spared him and yet finds himself outnumbered at every point. There are many indications from German prisoners, from French officers and from members of the British service, the combined testimony of whom it is difficult to disbelieve, that the German army is becoming demoralized."

"The timidity of the German outposts who surrender when surprised is strong evidence of their demoralization."

Jettie Cowell, of Lebanon, Del. was struck by lightning the other day, cured her of a bad case of warts.

At That Jeff Saved a Trip to the Front

As long as we're here in Europe we might as well not be pikers and get into the war ourselves.

I'll join the French army.

Good idea! So to show our impartiality, I'll join the German army.

Now considering all other things equal, with you in the French army and me in the German army we will simply be fighting each other. So instead of chasing each other all over Europe we might as well save ourselves the trouble of going to the front and—

Antark off our coats and fight it out right here.

Huh?

For strategic reasons, I surrender!

Perfectly good white flag.

DEVELOPING MORE RAPIDLY BEING PUSHED FORWARD

Official Paris Report Says Result of Fight Battle Still Uncertain but Allies Forced to Yield Certain Points—German Army Operating on East Prussian Front, After a Battle Lasting Ten Days are Beaten Back—Large Quantity of War Material Abandoned in Flight.

Paris, Oct. 5.—(3:02 p.m.)—The following official communication was given out in Paris after the battle of the Marne.
"On our left wing to the north of the Oise, the battle continues with great violence. The result remains indecisive. We have been obliged at certain points to yield ground.
"Along the remainder of the front there has been no change.
"In Russia, after a battle which lasted ten days, the German army which was operating between the eastern Prussian front and the Niemen river, has been driven back along the entire line and made its retreat abandoning a considerable quantity of war material. This army has evacuated completely the territory of Russian provinces of Suwalki and Glogja."

"WAR WILL PROVE A WINNING CARD FOR CANADA"—McARTHUR

Big Railway Builder Says Country Has Already Passed Through Getting-Under-Way Stage—Main Thing Now is to Get People on Land—Two Lines From Edmonton North are Extending into Hinterland Fast Not a Man Has Been Taken Off—Statesmanship, not Soup Kitchens, Needed in West.

J. D. McArthur, who has since the war been called the Kitchener of the Canadian north, passed through the city for a trip west over the C.P. Sunday, staying at the Scholastic hotel with C. A. Adams, manager of the Western Trust company, of Winnipeg, and some officials of the two new railways. Mr. McArthur is a big, burly man, a building north from Edmonton. They expect to return in about a week.
Mr. McArthur, while looking at Canada's future in a most optimistic manner is characteristically frank in speaking of things in general. He says that something must be done, to cope with the conditions which have been brought about, and that the country is the one outstanding employer of a lot of labor who has not cut down his staffs or been compelled to stop work through financial depression, his opinions and his advice should be worth something.

Progress in the North
"On October 16," says Mr. McArthur in an interview, "we will finish the grading of the Dunvegan and R.C. railway to the Smoky river, which is 200 miles northwest of Edmonton. Steel has been laid for 200 miles of this line, and we will have it completed by December 1. We have had 2,500 men at work on this line, and they are at work now. Not a man has been taken off on account of the war."
"We crossed the Athabasca river by a permanent steel bridge 400 feet long, that is to say, a steel superstructure on concrete piers. This bridge reached a point 40 miles south of Dunvegan. The line, as you know, passes that far to the south of the river. We have successfully crossed the boundary line of British Columbia. We are operating a portion of the line under construction, and several small towns have been started with the customary number of stores. As I have stated before, this is a mixed farming country, but farmers everywhere are beginning to see that this is the most approved method of farming, and we today have a great many people in this country. The Peace River country has a mighty future before it."

Graded Beyond the Great Waterways
"Grading on the Great Waterways railway which runs northeast of Edmonton was started last spring and now has reached a point 40 miles south of Dunvegan. The line, as you know, passes that far to the south of the river. We have successfully crossed the boundary line of British Columbia. We are operating a portion of the line under construction, and several small towns have been started with the customary number of stores. As I have stated before, this is a mixed farming country, but farmers everywhere are beginning to see that this is the most approved method of farming, and we today have a great many people in this country. LETTER WHICH WENT DOWN WITH IRELAND REACHES CITY—DRY.
A letter which went to the bottom of the sea in the Empress of Ireland is the possession of Joseph J. Rafferty, stenographer at the city hall, his misadventure is one addressed to her father and mother in Boston. The letter was sent a week prior to that notable catastrophe. It was returned to her by the post office in a letter envelope while in Winnipeg last week. On the face of her own letter was stamped with an ordinary rubber stamp.
Recovered by divers from the wreck of the S. S. Empress of Ireland.
The letter was not damaged by water. The extreme edges were soaked, and the gum had obliterated a portion of the address from the envelope, but the letter paper within or the writing was not marred by the water. It appeared that the letter had been in the middle of a bundle tightly tied together with a cord. The stamp had been soaked off, but the stamped corner was the wettest portion of the letter. The dampened edges had made it easy for the dead letter office to open the letter without cutting it and the sender's address was discovered within. Evidently the letter had been returned to the sender rather than forwarded to the address called for, because the address had become somewhat blurred and in places scarcely legible.

WESTLOCK, ON E. D. AND B. C. IS GROWING FAST: FIRST FAIR ON TUESDAY

(Special to the Capital)
Westlock, Oct. 5.—A shipment of three cars of cattle from this station to Edmonton last week marks a beginning in live stock shipments over the new E. D. and B. C. line. The country adjacent to this town is particularly adapted to the raising of cattle as the feed grows luxuriantly—verge, pure vine and wild grasses. Considerable hay is being done at this point, meat produce, and such products being shipped north, and cream is regularly shipped to Edmonton. Passenger traffic over the railway is increasing. The time of day now running is 11 hours from Edmonton to Sawridge. A new method of passenger is in the course of building and other buildings are contemplated.
The first Westlock annual fair is to be held on the usual date, which time the ladies will collect for the Red Cross. One of the circulating libraries from the University of Alberta is in use here and is much appreciated.

FIGHTING JOE IS INTERESTED IN NEW IN THE DOMINION

Pictureque Political Figure Drops in on Edmonton on Way to Vancouver
WANTS TARIFF WHICH WILL RECOGNIZE WEST

Characteristically States He Will be Satisfied "With Nothing Less."

John J. Martin, member of the British parliament for the constituency of St. Pancras East, London, spent Sunday in Edmonton, on his way back to Vancouver from Ottawa. Mr. Martin has retired from British politics, although he will retain his seat in the House of Commons, after the dissolution of the present parliament, and will take up his residence in Vancouver, where he has large interests. Mr. Martin also proposes to interest himself anew in Canadian politics.
"Fighting Joe" stated that in a recent interview with Sir Wilfrid Laurier with regard to the present position of the liberty party, and after a thorough discussion of the conditions, he was able to accept Sir Wilfrid's suggestion that he should take an active part in the next Dominion elections.
"He invited me to assist the party in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia," said Mr. Martin. "I am not prepared to accept anybody, or to interfere with local arrangements. My work will consist in endeavoring to convince the voters in the west that it will be to their interest—especially now that they have such a large addition to their representation—to support the liberty party. I am authorized by Sir Wilfrid to say that the party will be glad to have the support of the west. I am authorized by Sir Wilfrid to say that the party will be glad to have the support of the west. TWO FEET OF SNOW IN MACLEOD: ROADS STATED IMPASSABLE

Macleod, Alta., Oct. 5.—The heaviest snow storm ever experienced in this district at this time of the year is in progress, and over two feet of snow has already fallen. Many of the electric light and local phone wires are down and telephone lines are being cut. Outside points are at a complete standstill. A high wind has drifted the snow into drifts of many feet and all roads outside of the town are impassable, completely blocking the highway. The wind is blowing from the west. The snow is heavy and a rapid thaw will melt the Old Man river to an unusual height.

The city is being shelled from all sides, and the bombardment is increasing in intensity. The Krupp employees are fighting bravely, and the city is being defended by the Belgian army. Irrigation Gets Away to Excellent Start Despite Inclement Weather.

BULYEA READS MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR GENERAL

Thinks by Intensified Farming Many More People Will Settle in West.

Calgary, Oct. 5.—Despite the bad weather, the twenty-first International Irrigation congress, which was held in person here, formally opened the congress by pressing an electric button at Government House, Ottawa, which, by an ingenious device, unveiled a portrait of his royal highness, duke of Cornwall, as he stood on the platform in the horse show building. Almost exactly at 10 o'clock as the crowd of delegates and visitors waited in silence, a click was heard and the duke's image, a union jack and a stars and stripes which hung side by side over the portrait, began to move. The duke's image, a union jack and a stars and stripes which hung side by side over the portrait, began to move. The duke's image, a union jack and a stars and stripes which hung side by side over the portrait, began to move.

The official party arrived shortly before 10 o'clock and his honor the governor general, who was accompanied by his wife, took his position on the platform, together with Premier Sifton, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Major Young, president of the congress; J. B. Case, first vice-president; George A. Snow, chairman of the board of government; J. S. Denison, chairman of the local board of government; Mayor Simmet, Dean Page, Mayor Vauxhall, and Hon. C. G. K. Noyes, member of the local board of government, and Secretary Arthur.

Leutenant Governor Bulley read the message of H.R.H. the Duke of Cornwall to the congress as follows: "The duke of Cornwall, in the name of his royal highness, the duke of Cornwall, to convey to you his appreciation of the fact that you have enabled him to be officially connected with the opening of this congress. He would be pleased to be here in person, and to have the opportunity of showing more actively the interest he takes in the development of this western country and in irrigation as a means to such development. But the European disturbance has unfortunately made it impossible for him to leave the seat of government. He thinks that by irrigation and intensified farms of farming many people can be settled where ordinary agricultural methods would not be possible."
Mr. Snow stated that he was authorized by the governor general to administer at Washington of the invitation to be represented at the congress. The Canadian and United States was interested in the peaceful development of all its natural resources and local great interests in the congress. They expected to learn many things to take back to help them in their own country. The president of the congress on both sides of the line. Probert read his address.

Fact that Fighting is in Progress in and Around Town of Douai, Midway Between Arras and Valenciennes, Shows How Rapidly Work is Progressing—At Soissons German Trenches Have Been Captured but Germans Continue to Fight Fiercely.

London, Oct. 5.—The fact that fighting is in progress in and around the town of Douai, midway between Arras and Valenciennes, on the railroad to Mons, is taken in London to show how surely the allies in northern France have pushed forward a movement they hope will envelop General Von Kluck, the German commander of the right wing.

For the last week the Germans, so far as can be ascertained from the few facts known in London, have been vainly hurrying their armies against different points of the allied line in an effort to discover a weak mesh in the net. At present, in the view of General Joffre, the process of attrition has gone far enough to justify the resumption of offensive movements on the part of the allies as is announced in the latest communication from French headquarters.

Apparently the intent now is to attempt something decisive against the German right wing and if possible bring to an end this contest which for magnitude and stubbornness is without precedent in history.

REINFORCEMENTS PUSH FORWARD

The series of halting stretching north and south along the allied line are the master keys of the battle and a considerable force from overseas and elsewhere has been pushed up to secure control of them.
At Soissons, the German trenches already have been captured, but the Germans continue to fight fiercely even after still attacking at this point as elsewhere along the entire line of battle. German official reports claim successes just as confidently as General Joffre maintains the contrary.

In the eastern theater of the war the Germans would appear, according to English observers, to be contemplating a period of defense before undertaking offensive. They are busily engaged between Thion, in west Prussia, and Galicia in strengthening themselves against the Russian hosts gathering on the other side of the frontier. It is calculated that there are no fewer than 4,000,000 fighting men in this eastern arena and a repetition of long and arduous siege battles which has been such a feature of the struggle in France seems a certainty.

PUSHING TO CRACOW

The Russians continue to push westward on Cracow evidently with the hope of getting thence to Breslau, and they go on stretching their tentacles southward toward Budapest. Goanacks are well the press of Hungary. Even Budapest admits that they have crossed the river Theiss, which was regarded as one of the main obstacles to their progress. By getting across the river, they assured the second Vienna offensive, the second Vienna offensive capital. They had already seized the Lemberg-Budapest line at Ungvár.

The Austrians on the other hand claim further victories against their smaller army invading Bosnia, but they are the subject of Sarajevo which according to Serbian and Montenegrin statements is surrounded by their allied armies.

"WAR WILL PROVE A WINNING CARD FOR CANADA"—McARTHUR

Big Railway Builder Says Country Has Already Passed Through Getting-Under-Way Stage—Main Thing Now is to Get People on Land—Two Lines From Edmonton North are Extending into Hinterland Fast Not a Man Has Been Taken Off—Statesmanship, not Soup Kitchens, Needed in West.

J. D. McArthur, who has since the war began, been called the Kitchener of railway construction in Canada, passed through the city for a trip west over the G. T. P. Sunday, staying at the Schick hotel with C. A. Adamson, manager of the Western Trust company of Winnipeg, and some officials of the two new railways, the J. D. McArthur Construction company is building north from Edmonton. He expects to return in about a week. Mr. McArthur, while looking at Canada's future in a most optimistic manner is characteristically firm in speaking of things in general. He says that something must be done to cope with the conditions which have been brought about, and that the only way is the one outstanding employer of a lot of labor who has not cut down his staffs or been compelled to stop work through financial depression, his opinions and his advice should be worth something.

Progress in the North
"On October 10," says Mr. McArthur in an interview, "we will finish the grading of the Duvegan and H.C. railway to the Smoky river, which is 200 miles northwest of Edmonton. It will be built for 200 miles in the distance, and will be completed by December 1. We have had 2,500 men at work on this line, and as in the case of the Peace River, not a man has been taken off on account of the war."
"We crossed the Athabasca river with a permanent steel bridge 100 feet long, that is to say, a steel superstructure on concrete piers. The grading has reached a point 40 miles south of Duvegan. The line, as you know, passes that far to the south of the Peace river, and is in the immediate vicinity of the British Columbia. We are operating a portion of the line under construction, and several small towns have been started with the customary number of stores. As I have stated before, this is a mixed farming country, but farmers everywhere are beginning to see that this is the most approved method of farming, and we have had a great many settlers in this country. The Peace River country has a mighty future before it."

Graded Beyond Lac la Biche
"On the Peace River, the G. T. P. railway which runs northeast of Edmonton was started last spring, and it has now reached a point 100 miles from Lac la Biche, a distance of 127 miles. We will have steel laid to that point in two months. We have 2,000 men at work on this line, and as in the case of the Duvegan railway, none have been laid off on account of the war."

"What do I think will be the effect of the war on Canada? I think that the future was never brighter than it is today. We have seen the effect of the war through our difficult task of getting under way of gaining momentum—and that was a greater task than anything that confronts us today. There is nothing now that can hold the people's attention focused on the land and main thing is to get people on the land. This is an enormous task and greater effort must be made to develop it. As yet only ten per cent. of the available land is under cultivation. We have just turned over a few acres of land at Lac la Biche, and we are going to reap a profit from the wheat and blood and lives, but it is a going to be a heavy immigration to this country."

WESTLOCK, ON E. D. AND B. C. IS GROWING FAST: FIRST FAIR ON TUESDAY

(Special to the Capital)
Westlock, Oct. 5.—A shipment of three cars of cattle from this station to Edmonton last week marks a beginning in live stock shipments over the new E. D. and B. C. line. The country adjacent to this town is particularly adapted to the raising of cattle as the feed grows luxuriantly—vetch, pea vine and wild grasses. Considerable business is being done at this point, most products being shipped north. Passenger traffic over the railway is increasing. The time of train running is reduced to 11 hours from Edmonton to Westlock. A new methodist parsonage in the town is under construction. The first Westlock annual fair is to be held on Tuesday, at which time the ladies will collect for the patriotic fund. One of the circulating libraries from the university of Alberta is in use here and is much appreciated.

LETTER WHICH WENT DOWN WITH IRELAND REACHES CITY—DRY.

A letter which went to the bottom of the sea in the Empress of Ireland is said to have reached the city. The letter was addressed to a stenographer at the city hall, and was one which was written in a state of great excitement. It was returned to her by the dead letter office. On the face of her own letter was stamped with an ordinary rubber stamp, and it was in the case of the Duvegan railway, none have been laid off on account of the war.

RECOVERED BY DIVERS FROM THE WRECK OF THE S. S. EMPIRE OF IRELAND.

The letter which was recovered by divers from the wreck of the S. S. Empress of Ireland, and the gun had obliterated a portion of the address from the envelope, but the letter paper within or the writing were not marred by the water. It appeared that the letter had been in the middle of a bundle tightly tied together with a cord. The stamp had been soaked off but the stamped corner was the wettest portion of the letter. The dampened edges had made it easy for the dead letter office to open the letter without cutting it and the sender's address was discovered within. Evidently the letter had been returned to the address called for, because the address had become somewhat blurred and in places scarcely legible.

IMPREGNABLE POSITION AT SOISSONS HINGE OF DOOR CLOSING IN ENEMY

Attacks of Prussians at Croenne But a Mask to a Rapid Movement
Primarily to Outflank Allies and Secure a Broad Road Home.

(By H. M. Tomlinson)

A town in France, Oct. 5.—The violent and repeated attacks of the Prussians against the French lines between Croenne and Argonne were but the mask to a great and rapid German movement which, aided by reinforcements from the 1st and 2nd Armies, was to outflank the allies primarily and in any case to secure their main lines of communication, and a broad road home. But the French were quick—these wonderful railways prepared a shocking surprise. General Von Kluck, the impregnable position near Soissons was the hinge of the huge door which was being shut against the exit of the German army.

Vainly at Soissons the Germans have thrown their strength against the closing of the barrier. As at Reims, they have been thrown back. They discovered this barrier still moving southward.

The end of that barrier moving against the Germans, its hinge at Soissons, is now close to the frontier. I cannot say that the German line through the Ardennes—Cunhaux—St. Quentin has been yet cut, but if the official communication now announced it, it would not surprise me. They are entrenched there, no doubt and will be difficult to move. In any event the way would be closed to the Germans, certainly, so narrowed by this time it would allow, so to speak, an exit only in single file.

There is left for the Prussians the line of the Meuse through Dinant and Luxembourg, and in the direction through Luxembourg.

KLUCK'S WIRELESS FOR ASSISTANCE INTERCEPTED

Bavarian Regiments Demoralized by Sudden Onslaught of Joffre's Men.

A town in France, Oct. 5.—France knows that good news lurks behind the veil of the official bulletins. It is better news even than that of the fighting at Reims where the Bavarians have been cut up and could be a serious attack, in which the French infantry, after advancing in a mass rapidly has hurled on the German line under cover of the machine guns.

The Bavarians were demoralized by that sudden onslaught and their attempt to retreat developed into a disorderly panic. Hundreds were killed and large numbers captured.

Afterwards General Von Kluck and his staff officers sent telegrams, and the German divisional officers succeeded in rallying their men and sending them to another attack. But the French infantry gained ground as far as La Chavatte and General Joffre has himself ordered that the German divisions be sent to their position have been repulsed and shattered.

The net has closed in upon them and all their struggling has only made it bulge out into a preposterous shape which cannot be held line. The French front on the right wing is a series of acute curves and sharp angles into which the French have driven wedge.

At the extreme north flank attack of the allies is threatening their main positions in the center which will soon become untenable. Lower down on the west their army corps are peacefully divided by French cavalry. At La Fere, according to the news already published, a large force of Germans is entirely surrounded.

It is not only hope now lies in the trenches which they have been digging for the last fortnight, and the heavy masses of men they are withstanding the last onslaught of the French right wing and their long line of Tentons are Routed, Losing Many Men in Encounter With Odds Against Them.

Paris, Oct. 5.—In a despatch to the Allies agency from Petrograd the following details of the combat between the Germans and the Russians at Osovets fortress in Russian Poland are given:

"The Germans approached the fortress by the stream (southeast of Augustow) and took the stream as a guide. Nine miles from the fortress the artillery was stopped by the marshy ground and from there began a heavy artillery fire. Infantry with machine guns was sent on and approached to within four miles of the fortress.

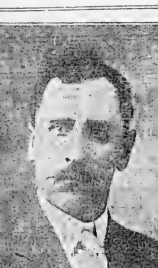

"The Russians then made a sortie, profiting by routes unknown to the Germans, and enveloped the two wings which, it was supposed, had occupied all the routes. When this movement was discovered a furious engagement ensued under conditions unfavorable to the enemy.

"The artillery of the forts caused large casualties among the Germans on the roads, while the infantry badly battered their flanks.

"The fight lasted 36 hours and ended in the rout of the Germans. The Russians captured all their artillery, which was stuck in the mud."

communication. It was for this purpose they made such violent attacks on the British lines as those described in the official report of a dispatch under Sir John French. That tremendous cannonade was to mask the orderly movements of their reserves behind the lines. It was meant to conceal the withdrawal of their main forces from the front and to leave in answer to appeals for help sent by wireless messages from General Von Hindenburg to the German wireless station.

WAS POPULAR IN RIDING

One of First Homesteaders in District, Settling There 25 Years Ago.

Wetaskiwin, Oct. 5.—Charles H. Olin, M.P.P., for Wetaskiwin constituency, passed away at his residence here Saturday evening after an illness of three weeks. He was in his forty-eighth year. He expected to be able to attend the sitting of the legislature this week but death came suddenly.

With the exception of the inaugural member for this constituency, Mr. Olin had been the member for this constituency since the formation of the province and that he was held in the highest esteem throughout the constituency is evidenced by the magnificent outpouring of sympathy which he has received here and there at the two general elections.

He was also a member of the city council for several years. Deceased was a native of Sweden, but he had been a resident of this district nearly 25 years, being one of the first homesteaders.

He leaves a widow and three children. The funeral takes place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment being in Wetaskiwin cemetery.

ITALIAN ARMY SAID TO BE QUITE READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY

GERMANS ARRESTING ALL MEN BETWEEN 15 AND 35 IN CAPITAL OF BELGIUM

London, Oct. 5.—A Chinese despatch to the Mail, says: "The Italian army is spending ten million dollars on winter outfit for troops, including woolen coats and fur coats suitable for a campaign in the mountains."

"The Italian army is now quite ready."

London, Oct. 5.—The Germans are arresting all men between the ages of 15 and 35 in Brussels. They are induced to present themselves at German military posts under various pretexts and are promptly placed under restraint there.

At Reims there is a happier and more hopeful atmosphere in Ghent and throughout the district. More shops are open and busy today in Ghent than at any other time since the war began.

"The Germans are lost" is the cry on every lip, but there is grave anxiety for Brussels. Antwerp is fully expected to hold its own, and the Belgian view is that the more men the Germans lose trying to get into it, the better the whole situation here for safety of Brussels.

Cancelled on Conditions
London, Oct. 5.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Central News says that German despatches report that the suspension of certain socialist newspapers has been cancelled on the plea of socialist leaders that these papers in the future will publish nothing calculated to create an opinion unfavorable to the prolongation of the war.

GERMANS WILL REGRET SUCCESS OF MOVEMENT WHICH TOOK ST. MIHIEL

London, Oct. 5.—A Bordeaux despatch to the Times says:

"The Germans may soon have cause to regret the success of the movement which carried them to St. Mihiel and the banks of the Meuse. While their engineers made unceasing efforts to bridge, again the French are working step by step towards the rear."

"The balance of day and nights and exhaustion in driving the tanks, the dash of the cavalry, the constant bombardments and the action of three weeks' struggle will combine, while casting an eye upon Antwerp."

BERLIN OFFICIAL REPORT CHEERFUL

Says Battle on the Right Wing and in Argonne District Successful.

London, Oct. 5.—A despatch to Reuters from Berlin, via Amsterdam, gives an official statement issued at the German headquarters on the evening of October 4, saying:

"In the western theater, the battle on the right wing and in the Argonne district is proceeding successfully. The operations of Antwerp and in the eastern theater have been carried out according to a plan and without fighting."

RUSSIANS LAM GERMAN ARE ROUTED WHEN TRYING CROSS THE RIVER NIEMAN

Report that Muscovites Were Investing Cracow Stated to Have Been Inspired—French Situation at St. Mihiel is Relieved by Movement Threatening Rear of Crown Prince's Army—Fear of Neighbors Keeps Balkan States in Order.

London, Oct. 5.—(10.10 a.m.)—Russian reports indicate that the German forces towards the Nieman river from the east Prussian frontier has ended in a German rout after the battle of Augustow, which has been under way since September 25. If these reports are true, it means that not only has General Hindenburg been given opportunity to resume the offensive, but the important fortress of Osovets has been relieved from investment.

An official message from the commandant of the German fortress at Koenigsberg, however, has decided contrast to the Russian report, although it does not localize it particularly.

As was expected, subsequent reports have developed the rumor that the Russians were investing Cracow. It was hardly possible for the Muscovite forces have reached there in such a short time, but a report that the Conspicuous have reached the neighborhood of Cracow is distinctly creditable as the famous Russian cavalry is showing ability to cover the same wide field of operations as the Germans in the western war.

While the allies in the west are congratulating themselves on the excellent progress of the railway service, it enabled them to bring up all the necessary transports and reinforcements, the situation in east Prussia are suffering from a lack of such facilities. No matter how great the Russian invading host proves to be, physical conditions alone would prevent any duplication of the wonderful march of the German forces through Belgium and northern France.

Fighting is reported around Donat, 15 miles east and north of Arras, and if this is true General Von Kluck is in as dangerous a predicament as he has been since the allies began their determined movement to turn the German right in France.

A bulk, befitting the day apparently, prevailed Sunday along most of the battle front. The French situation at St. Mihiel has been greatly relieved, probably by the movement which threatens the rear of the crown prince's army.

It now seems certain that the forts in the outer rim of the Antwerp defenses are still occupied by the defenders, but these must have suffered greatly. The desperate efforts on the part of the Germans to cross the river Neth, where their advance lines rest, have been repulsed. Along this line one of the great German siege guns is said to have been lost in a swamp. It is this is true it is a serious loss for the Germans, for the huge weapon are not easy to replace. The latest reports from the besieged city that two attempts of the Germans to cross the river Neth have been smothered by the defenders' artillery.

In the Balkans the mutual jealousies of the small states which used to threaten the peace of Europe are now being kept in check by the fear of the German invasion. The situation in the Balkans is such that it is for each to be afraid to risk its lot with either side for fear of an attack from its neighbor.

MINISTER GREY SEES DIFFERENT ERA WHEN EUROPEAN WAR ENDED

Washington, Oct. 5.—Upholding the ancient tradition, a calligram was made public by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador today, from Sir Edward Grey, the British minister of foreign affairs, which said:

"We still believe in treaties, in the rights of the weak and the duties of the strong. We look forward, at the end of the war, to a Europe in which these great and simple truths will be safeguarded against a resurgence of the era of blood and iron."

BANKING FOR PRODUCERS.

Ontario, so the eastern papers say, is going to see two million dollars' worth of apples go to waste this fall because there is not the immediate market to absorb them, nor the available financial machinery to carry the crop forward in some form or other until the market presented itself in this country or some other.

At the same time there goes up from eastern Canadian cities the cry of the out-of-work who must be taken care of and who, with their dependents, must be fed.

These two circumstances, seen side by side, illustrate most clearly what it is that the Canadian banking system fails to do for Canada.

The man who, seeking employment, sees through the wayside fence trees loaded with apples which, by the application of his and others' labor, might become canned apples, dried apples, apple butter, apple cider or any one of a dozen characters of products, in a state of hermetically sealed preservation such as would outlast the pyramids, or who realizes that these apples, properly packed and placed in cold storage, would quite probably outlast the war, might be pardoned if he hurls a few anathemas at a system which allows those apples to go to waste at the same time and in the same place as his capacity to labor is going to waste and his kiddies are compelled to rely on charity for enough to eat.

Yet this is exactly what this wonderful banking system which we have built up in Canada does, and while the apples and the jobless men are a particularly spectacular case, the system does the same thing in a greater or less degree in every productive industry in the dominion.

No sooner does the sawmill, for instance, fill its last order than the plant, in the great majority of cases, is compelled to shut down and the men are out of work and unable to buy apples. The fishery works almost absolutely to its demand; when the immediate demand is not presented the boats tie up. The lead mines in British Columbia are having great difficulty in maintaining operations because the silver content of their ore—owing to the war situation—cannot be immediately forwarded to its ultimate market in Asia. All these industries interlock. Where one is affected all are affected. Where one man is out of work the loss radiates until it is shared by thousands.

These halts and jars to the machinery of production occur in peace times as well as during war—although the war accentuates and emphasizes them—and at the same time the banking report from month to month shows where enormous sums of the money necessary to maintain a steady production in Canada are being taken out of the country altogether and lent to the stock gamblers in New York, who do not produce and whose operations, on the whole, are a distinct handicap to production. What the war has pointed out in this latter respect is that this mobile reserve, which the banks allege their call loans in New York represent, has as great possibilities for being locked up as apples in the can, lumber in a pile, or silver in a safety-deposit vault.

What is needed in Canada, of course, is a banking system by which it would be possible to finance on any character of produced and transmutable wealth, in any place and at any time, and not necessarily with the consent of a privately-owned bank. Already this has been perfected in the matter of warehouse receipts and bills of lading for wheat, but President Wilson in United States is working out in his federal reserve board a system by which it will be possible to get the same accommodation on almost any staple product that the ordinary demands of commerce make fit security for discount. While the Wilson method is round-about, it contains the germ of what must be applied to remedy the situation in Canada.

In other words, it must be admitted that the banking system as at present constituted in Canada, fails to suit itself to the requirements of a country which relies not on the thing called "finance," as does New York or London, but upon straight hickory-shirted production for its prosperity. The change that is necessary is to make the actual tangible products the collateral, instead of stocks and bonds. The thing that is required is banking for producers and not for gamblers.

THE PROFOUND INTELECT WHICH ERUPTS DIURNALLY IN THE JOURNAL.

Speaking about the immediate effects of the war upon the money situation, The Capital a week or so ago, said in these columns:

In preparation for war Europe has been hoarding gold for years and proceeded to tell something about the extent to which the hoarding of gold had been carried on by European governments, to show probably effects and to explain how, over night, as it were, the credit system upon which the world's business had been carried forward was completely dissolved, and the world suddenly thrust onto a basis where gold is the only international money.

Whereupon the column which the Journal palms off on a defenseless public as mental pabulum emitted something like this:

THE ALLEGED GOLD.

Strange stories are afloat about enormous stores of gold which the nations of Europe have been hoarding in anticipation of the present war. They should be accepted with the utmost reserve, and none a lot more harsh of that kind.

Now comes Will Payne, in the Saturday Evening Post, who, speaking of financial Europe's preparations for the war, says:

Ever since 1912 there has been a pretty steady selling of foreign-held American securities.

And pointing out the extent to which this process of cashing in on United States securities in order to get gold into the European banks had been accelerated toward the last, he says:

In the seven months (January to July, 1914) we exported eighty-three million dollars of gold—above imports of the metal—in part settlement of the debt.

The object of this he describes thusly:

Her whole object in selling our securities was to get money, not credit; so whatever stocks and bonds we bought now would have to be paid for in gold.

And to make the thing plain in the reader's mind he prefaces his story with this:

At the beginning of the last week in July the civilized world was going about its business as usual. By the end of the week, in Europe, all the vast machinery of credit and exchange by which that business is carried on had gone to smash.

The Journal will now kindly rise up and declare that Will Payne knows nothing whatever about the things he is writing about and that anyway the Saturday Evening Post could not be expected to understand these things so clearly as the profound intellect which erupts diurnally in the Journal.

UNIVERSITY NEWS

The university of Alberta opened classes for the session of 1914-15 Wednesday last. Registration is going steadily. There is every indication that the freshmen class will be larger and that the attendance as a whole will show an increase over last year.

Building operations on the university campus have gone on briskly all summer. The art building has reached the top story, and the new laboratories are well on toward completion. Pembina hall, the third residence, is erected in, and workmen are busily engaged in finishing the interior. The north wing is being prepared for the immediate installation of medical laboratories and class rooms.

The staff of instruction of the university of Alberta now numbers 40. Eight new members have been added for the work of this session, and some new appointments are still to be made.

Allan Emerson Cameron, M. Sc., lecturer in mining engineering and demonstrator in geology, is a graduate of McGill university. He received his master's degree for special work in the study of the combustion of coal and holds the Douglas fellowship in mining for the present year. Mr. Cameron has had a large amount of practical experience. He was engaged in transcontinental survey work during the winters of 1908 and 1910 with the G.T.V. railway, and during the summer of 1911 with the Hudson's Bay railway. For the last three years he has been connected with the geological survey. In 1912 he acted efficiently with Dr. Allan of the university of Alberta, in survey work in the Rocky mountains; the summer of 1913 he spent surveying in southern Saskatchewan, and that of 1914 in the coal and oil fields of southern Alberta.

Hector John McLeod, B. Sc., lecturer in electrical engineering, is a native of Prince Edward Island. He was educated at Prince of Wales college, then came west, took the normal school course in Alberta in 1907, and taught for two years in the southern part of the province. He then took a course in applied science at McGill university, specializing in electrical engineering and graduating in 1914 gold medalist of his year. Mr. McLeod has spent two summers in practical work with the Canadian Westinghouse company, Hamilton, Ont.

John P. Robertson, M. A., B. Sc., lecturer in analytical chemistry, is a graduate of the University of Edinburgh. His thesis on "The Chemical Constitution of Organic Matter in Soil-Shades," written as the result of his research work under the Carnegie Foundation of the United States, has been published in the "Proceedings of the Royal Society of Edinburgh." Mr. Robertson lectured last year in chemistry at McGill university, from which institution he comes to the university of Alberta.

Two members of the teaching staff of the university of Alberta are fighting with the allies, while a third is with the Canadian expeditionary force.

Edward Sorel, who has been lecturer in French for four years and who was in France at the outbreak of the war, has joined the colors. He is now with his old regiment, the 10th Chasseurs d'Afrique (Algerian Light Infantry).

John Burdon Richerforth, (Oxon), who was appointed lecturer in French in spring, had, as an undergraduate, three years of military training. He has obeyed Lord Kitchener's call for men and has enlisted as a trooper in the Yorkshire Hussars.

Temporary appointments in French will be made until M. Sorel and Mr. Richerforth can again take up their duties.

Dr. Allan C. Rankin, M.D., C.M., D. P.H. (McGill), provincial bacteriologist and professor of bacteriology in the university, had served as captain in the army medical corps. When the war broke out he volunteered his services, and is now either at Valenciennes or on the coast with the first contingent of the Canadian expeditionary force. Dr. Rankin's experience in public health work and with those infectious and other diseases which are the special danger of camp life, makes his services of great value in the sanitation department of army and medical work.

A "FAMILY" WAR

(From the Edinburgh Scotsman)
"Cousin," said King George of England.
"Cousin," responded King Christian of Denmark.
"Cousin," said the Czar of All the Russians.

"Cousin yourself," replied Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany.

If all the heads of the nations embroiled in the European disturbances were to come together on some one field of battle, there would be a lively interchange of family greetings—unless the Royal relatives were too cross to speak to one another at all.

The following list gives some idea of how the various rulers are related:

1. King George V. of Great Britain and Ireland, everybody's cousin.
2. Tsarina of Russia, first cousin of King George and of Emperor William.
3. Emperor William of Germany, grandson of Queen Victoria.
4. Queen Maud of Norway, sister of King George.
5. Queen Sophia of Greece, sister of Emperor William.
6. Queen Victoria of Spain, first cousin of Emperor William, of King George, and of Tsarina of Russia.
7. Nicholas II, Czar of Russia, first cousin of King George.

Marriage is apt to prove a failure if the courtship stops as soon as the parson has tied the knot.

been issued by the Institute of chartered accountants, giving details of the requirements in accountancy for the coming year. A new feature is the primary examination, which is equivalent to the matriculation examination of the university of Alberta, in the subjects of English, history, arithmetic, algebra and geometry.

The lectures will be given each week for 25 weeks, the first on Tuesday evening, October 6, 1914, at 7.30, and the second on the same evening at 8.30. Further information may be obtained from the registrar, university of Alberta, or from the principal of Alberta college, north side.

During the summer S. R. Hasford has been with the department of extension of the university of Alberta, in the division of debating and public discussion. Briefs and pocket literature have been prepared on over 29 questions of public importance, for the use of debaters throughout the province. It is hoped that this work will still further increase the service which the department will be able to render to the general public during the coming winter.

The schedule of extension lectures for this winter is being prepared by the department of extension of the university of Alberta. Last year 150 lectures were given at 40 centres, 18 of which had courses of four or more lectures. This year courses may be arranged for, to be given between November 15, 1914, and May 1, 1915. Subscribers of original series of such courses or single lectures should apply at once to the department of extensions.

Application for travelling libraries should be sent in to the department of extension as soon as possible, as the demand threatens to be greater than the supply. During the summer the department has been busy in the field and requests for information about them come in from new districts by almost every mail.

Already the Y.M.C.A. of the university of Alberta is busy. Its information bureau is established in the rooms of Assiniboia hall, and is placing the experience in university and city life, of the senior students, at the disposal of the freshmen as they arrive. The Y.M.C.A. for the first time, is to have the service of an inter-collegiate newspaper, edited by Mr. W. Harlow, B.A., filling the position, it should be a valuable factor in the student life.

Thirteen schools have already entered the high school debating league for this term, and several others have expressed their intention of entering. It is expected that the contest for the Rutherford cup, now held by Carleton, will be a keen one. The subject for the preliminary debates is "The Consolidation of Irish Settlements." Material on this subject has been collected by the department of extension, and pocket literature will be sent to the schools taking part.

A bulletin has been issued by the department of extension, setting forth the objects of the league and giving an account of the work done last year and the rules under which debates are held.

WEDDINGS

Cullis-Rebenn.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson, Callister St., Stettler, Alta., was the scene of a very quiet, but pretty wedding, when, at 2:30 a.m., on September 30, Myrtle G. Preb, their only daughter, was united in marriage to Harry M. Cullis, of the same place. Rev. J. F. Woodward, of Red Deer, performed the ceremony.

The home was prettily decorated with pantries and sweet peas, a beautiful bower in the drawing-room marking the scene of the ceremony. The bride, who entered the room on the arm of her father, was charmingly attired in ivory duchesse satin and shadow lace and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies.

Mr. H. J. Unwin, presiding the wedding march, and Miss C. E. Preb, bridesmaid, were the bridesmaids. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome set of Persian linen, fur to the bride a gold bracelet, and to the best man and organist, pearl stick pins.

The bride's mother wore black silk with embroidered net tunic. The bride and groom left on the early morning train for Canadian Pacific, and points west, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride travelling in navy blue serge suit with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullis will be at their home on Jamison street to their many friends after November 1.

PARRY-ATKINSON.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated last evening at the home of Mr. C. H. Doney, 1214 Gladstone road, when Mr. Pat Hebbington, of Cheyenne, Alta., and Miss Flora Vint, of Nova Scotia, were united in marriage by the Rev. W. F. Freeman.

A small company of friends were in attendance. The bride was prettily attired in white satin and carried a sheaf of white roses, and was attended by Mrs. Flora M. Cushing as matron of honor. Mr. C. A. Doney attended the groom.

After a delicious buffet supper the happy couple left on the midnight train for Edmonton, en route to their future home in Cheyenne, Alta. The bride is travelling in a small navy blue suit, with hat to match—Calgary Echo.

CANADIAN PAPER MILLS.

EXPERIENCE BOOM SAID TO BE UNPRECEDENTED

Toronto, Oct. 1.—The paper mill industry in news print has experienced the biggest boom in its history. While mills in nearly every other line of production have experienced a slump in orders, the paper companies are inundated with inquiries for daily discussion. Manufacturers are reluctant to present orders as being discussed wherever pulp and paper makers meet. The export business has been subjected to a remarkable stimulation until news print matter is a matter of daily discussion. Manufacturers are reluctant to present orders as being discussed wherever pulp and paper makers meet. PARRY-ATKINSON.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated last evening at the home of Mr. C. H. Doney, 1214 Gladstone road, when Mr. Pat Hebbington, of Cheyenne, Alta., and Miss Flora Vint, of Nova Scotia, were united in marriage by the Rev. W. F. Freeman.

A small company of friends were in attendance. The bride was prettily attired in white satin and carried a sheaf of white roses, and was attended by Mrs. Flora M. Cushing as matron of honor. Mr. C. A. Doney attended the groom.

After a delicious buffet supper the happy couple left on the midnight train for Edmonton, en route to their future home in Cheyenne, Alta. The bride is travelling in a small navy blue suit, with hat to match—Calgary Echo.

Rev. Dr. D. G. McQueen, of First Presbyterian church, reports the following: Alexander Young, Sanguin, Alberta, and Miss Lena McGregor, South River, N.S.; James Harry Pike, contractor, and Mrs. Myrtle St. John; Arthur James Bingham and Miss Anna Gibson.

CANADIAN PAPER MILLS.

EXPERIENCE BOOM SAID TO BE UNPRECEDENTED

Toronto, Oct. 1.—The paper mill industry in news print has experienced the biggest boom in its history. While mills in nearly every other line of production have experienced a slump in orders, the paper companies are inundated with inquiries for daily discussion. Manufacturers are reluctant to present orders as being discussed wherever pulp and paper makers meet.
